and what have you

by BOB CRAIG

This week designated as Future Farmers of America Week, is one of the most important "weeks" of the year for the future of an agricultural community such as ours. Without the training of tomorrow's farmers and the opportunity for boys to become interested in farming, ranching the future of this area would not be too bright.

For, in spite of all of the talk of industry moving into the smaller towns, the agricultural economy of this area is still the most vital force in this community's future. Even most of the industries that might locate in this area would be connected in some way with agriculture.

A large number of the boys taking vocational agriculture are city boys who may never spend a day on a farm or ranch after they graduate, but they will have a better understanding of the farmer's and rancher's problems and will become better citizens of this area because of it.

This would be a good time to check and see what the boys in FFA and the youth in 4H are doing. It would also be a good time to resolve to take a more active interest in their needs. A show barn is one of such needs.

If you have an opportunity to visit with one of the FFA or 4H groups in this area, do so. They would appreciate your interest.

Monday night at the directors meeting of the Board of Community Development it was brought out that some of the farmers and ranchers of this area would not join the BCP because the Chamber of Commerce, either state or national, was fighting the REAs.

They didn't want to become a part of anything that was against the organization that has brought to them the modern conveniences of electricity, and I don't blame them. The unfortunate thing is the great deal of misunderstanding today of the conflict between the REA and private power companies.

The REA was created to make it possible for the rural area to have electric power and since it was not profitable for the private companies to do the job, the REA was granted low cost loans and were made exempt from most of the taxes paid by private companies.

Where the rub comes in is when the REAs want to compete for customers in areas that were formerly rural but are now part of cities. Some of the lobbyists for the REAs claim they are losing customers to the cities and they want the legislature to grant them the right to sell power to any user in the area they formerly served.

Some of the more radical members would like to just open up the competition to all customers of private companies.

I doubt that many of the members of the numerous REAs over the state are greatly concerned about the expansion of their organization, they just want to be left alone and to leave everyone else alone. But unfortunately they have a few ambitious members who, for personal gain would like to see the REAs become bigger and bigger.

The Texas REAs pay about 16 percent of gross revenue in taxes while the private companies pay more than 25 percent. If the REAs want to compete for customers on the open market and get their money on the open market and pay their share of taxes, and still compete in price, I am all for them. But as long as they are subsidized by

CITY AWARDED CERTIFICATE OF ACHIEVEMENT FOR CLEAN-UP

The city of Hamlin has been awarded a Certificate of Achievement as a result of the improvements made during the clean-up campaign conducted last spring by the Jaycees and in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce.

The National Clean Up-Paint Up-Fix Up Bureau, a non-profit organization founded in St. Louis 49 years ago, makes the annual awards to winning cities in 8 population categories for outstanding work in improving their communities from the standpoints of beauty, safety and health. More than 6,000 communities receive help from the Bureau in conducting local Clean Up campaigns. The main basis in judging the annual contest is the greatest degree of improvements achieved as a result of a Clean Up-Paint Up-Fix Up campaign.

A record number of entries were reviewed by the Judges with trophies going to 26 cities and Certificates of Achievement to 37.

Pipers Win, to Play Hamilton Saturday

The Pied Pipers will meet the Hamilton Bulldogs Saturday afternoon at 12:30 in the Texas Tech Gymnasium at Lubbock in the first round of the Class AA Regional basketball playoff.

The winner of this game will play at 9 p.m. for the Regional championship, the loser will not play an additional game.

The Pipers earned the right to represent this bi-district, composed of districts five and six, Tuesday night when they squeezed by Childress, 64-62, in a game played at Childress. Hamilton was mauling Ballinger the same night, 71-42.

With Both Cecil Robinson and Mac Cade scoring in the twenties, the Pipers were able to overcome an early Childress lead and were able to hold on to it for the remainder of the game.

The Pipers built up an eight point lead early in the final period only to see it cut to two as the final horn sounded.

Robinson scored 24 points on nine field goals and six free throws to lead the scoring, he was followed by Cade with 23 points on seven field goals and nine charities.

McCain was high for Childress with 21 points, followed by Foard with 18.

An overflow crowd of 1,000 were on hand to see the Pipers take revenge on the Bulldogs for their victory last year in bi-district.

Childress out-rebounded the Pipers, 40-35, but Cade led the game with 14.

Hamlin hit 21 of 39 from the field for 54 per cent average. Childress made 25 of 58 for a 43.6 average.

The Pipers pulled out in front on their free-throws, sinking 22 of 38 while Childress sank 12 of 21.

Me chase rabbits?

I should say not!

My home is cool in the summer and warm in the winter with electricity from the electric cooperative my master and mistress helped to organize. They borrowed money at interest and they built their own electric system. Now my blanket is washed in an electric washer, my bath water is heated electrically and even my bones taste better when the roast is cooked on an electric range. We still romp in the fields occasionally, but we do most of that romping now by the TV set.

Me Chase Rabbits? I'd as soon bay at the moon. Either way, I'd have to go outside and that kind of life is for the birds. Give me an all electric home everytime. It's a doggone good way to live.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By VERN SANFORD

By Vern Sanford

For many outdoorsmen the hunting season ends too soon. Just about the time they have warmed up to some exciting shooting, closing date rolls around.

A few years ago that meant cleaning and putting up the firearms until the following fall, unless the shooter had a yen for trap or skeet shooting. But many hunters have discovered skeet and trap just don't compare with a day in the field.

Except for varmint shooting, rabbits and squirrels in some counties, Texas' hunting season is closed until next fall. But there are still some places in the state where the scattergun artist can legally hunt until March 31.

These places are the "put and take" farms or shooting preserves. At the present time there are 13 recognized shooting preserves in 12 Texas counties. This type of hunting has met with such success that within the next year the number of shooting preserves probably will exceed 20.

Four species of birds are hunted on these farms—quail, ringneck pheasant, chukar partridge and Mallard ducks. A few of Texas' shooting preserves offer all four birds, but most specialize in just quail, pheasant and chukar.

It's strictly free hunting with the resort charging a set price for each bird bagged. The bag limit is that imposed by the hunter's wallet.

All birds shot on these farms are pen raised. That might give the hunter the feeling that the birds are tame. One hunt on a game farm will prove otherwise—particularly in the case of pheasants which seem to revert to the wild matter of hours.

In a typical game preserve hunt, attendants release a number of birds in the field several hours before the hunters arrive. This gives the birds enough time to start foraging and work to cover.

Resorts provide dogs and guides for each party of hunters, and the size of the party usually limited to about four guns. Some resorts will allow hunters to bring their own dogs, if the animals are well-trained.

Texas shooting preserve owners have been aided by Joe B. Davidson, field representative of the Sportsman's Service Bureau. Davidson came to Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana last fall.

Formerly chief of game management for the Illinois Department of Conservation, Davidson has been working since 1955 with shooting preserve operators.

Shooting preserve promotion work done by Davidson is part of a program initiated in 1954 by the shooting Arms and Ammunition Manufacturers Institute.

Two other field men are similarly engaged in this work in other sections of the nation. When the program was started, there were game farms in 22 states. Today these farms offer fine shooting in 41 states, and is estimated that over one million game birds, artificially propagated and released for hunting under natural conditions have been harvested by sportsmen on nearly 1,300 shooting preserves throughout the nation.

Recognized Texas shooting preserves by counties include:

Bowie County: Kickapoo Hunting Lodge at Maud (a membership operation).

Brown County: Peaceful Valley Shooting Resort, at Bangs.

Burleson County: Texas Quail Farm at Bryan.

Caldwell County: King's Shooting Resort at Luling.

Dallas County: Snug Harbor Resort at Carrollton.

$125,000 School Bond Election Saturday

15 Years Ago -- Feb. 22, 1946

W. F. Martin is opening law offices in the Farmers and Merchants National Bank building.

In service together since they were inducted into the U. S. Army Engineers, Dean and Gean Witt, twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Witt of Hamlin, arrived here Monday with honorable service discharges.

Saturday will be a red letter day in Hamlin history, for it marks the time for the town's $125,000 grammar school bond election.

Through Wednesday there was apparently no opposition to the bond issue, which means that a thumping good vote should be recorded.

The Jolly Teenagers had their weekly party at the home of Jessie and Ray Myers Saturday.

Approximately 125 Baptist young people and their guests enjoyed the annual sweetheart banquet given in the First Baptist Church.

Dental Health Week Observed

In observance of National Children's Dental Health week, February 5-11, Dr. James E. Harrison and Dr. Robert Snyder, local dentists, examined the teeth of 815 Hamlin school children last Thursday at the schools.

This program is sponsored each year by the American Dental Association.

Savings of time and labor have resulted from an improved method of pinpointing dairy herds infected with truceiosis. The improvement consists of taking the test samples from the milk used in butterfat tests, thus eliminating the need for getting separate samples.

For the hunter who travels in many states, a complete list of approved shooting preserves, is listed in the National Directory of Shooting Preserves. This directory may be obtained free from the Sportsman's Service Bureau, 250 East 43rd St., New York, 17, N. Y.

Shooting preserve seasons vary from state to state. In Texas it opens on October 1 and runs through March 31. The dates are the same for Louisiana, but in Oklahoma there is no set season.

All shooting preserves require hunters to make advance reservations since only one or two parties are permitted to take the field at the same time. The preserves include in their service the dressing of all game bagged and packaging for quick freezing.

Some of the larger Shooting preserves have private air strips for sportsmen who fly their own planes.

You'll find good shooting on the shooting preserves and best of all you know the game is there.

Brucellosis Test Program Now In Progress in Fisher

The testing program for Brucellosis is now underway in Fisher County. The County is now feeling the effects of the drive that was initiated into full swing Monday, Feb. 13. The testing program is being accompanied by county line road blocks that are being set up to help prevent illegal entry of livestock. All cattle originating in counties not under the testing program, or in counties that do not have Modified Certified area status, are prevented from entering Fisher County, unless they meet the necessary requirements.

Mobile Laboratory unit No. 1 is now located in Roby at the fairgrounds, and will be the center of activity for the entire testing program, for the next few weeks. Dr. W. L. Tarver and Dr. S. M. Halley are coordinating all work in the county at the present time. There are six technicians, two serologists, and two laboratory assistants working in the laboratory.

The county has been divided into eight areas. Men in these areas have consented to help on a volunteer basis to line up the cattle owners as they come to them.

BY AMY ADAMS

TEEN-AGERS NEED A HAPPY HOME

THE following letter is a sample of similar letters from teen-agers who write to me with the same problem. I am printing it for the benefit of their parents in the hope they will realize the unhappiness they are causing their children.

Dear Amy: I am a very unhappy 15 year old girl with a problem and I don't know who to turn to.

My parents are not very happy married and they both drink beer and are not to a great extent. They are not alcoholics. How can I get them to stop drinking? Whenever my mother has had a few and we are together, she's always trying to start an argument. In a very calm voice I try to answer her but she keeps accusing me of sassing her. Sometimes I am very ashamed to have my friends home because of this.

What can I do to make my home a happier place? I am very unhappy and I love my parents deeply. Please help me.

Troubled Unhappiness

Dear Amy: If you are unable to tell your parents what you have told me, take your problem to an adult member of your family or a clergyman. Arrangements should be made for your parents to get assistance in improving living conditions at home through the FAMILY SERVICE ASSOCIATION. Do this... then let me know the results.

Dear Amy: Are we to understand that you are now recommending the practice of bigamy? Her husband must be thoroughly confused at this point—to think that you are recommending a husband for her very mood!

As Confused

Dear Amy: Perish the thought! What I want to convey was ONE husband with enough compassion and love for his wife to be able to understand her moods, whims and whimsies!

Dear Amy: My problem is the oldest of all. I am... my mother-in-law. When she was married 16 years ago, she was a lovely person. Now she is a double maker. She visits all 4 of her children without being invited. These visits last for 3 to 4 weeks. And she fights all the time. When she's in my house, she never stops degrading the others. She expects us (unemployed for 5 weeks with 4 small children) to keep her in cigarettes (2 packs a day) and take her out every few days. She doesn't help one single bit around the house—other than keeping all the coffee cups dirty and the ash trays a mess. I am a quiet, easy going type of person. So is my husband. We don't like a lot of noise and disagreements. What can I do with her? (My brother-in-law ran her out of his house 3 days ago.) I'm sure she needs a doctor!

I'll do whatever you say. Even if you say for me to shoot myself... there's my dear husband and children need me.)

Have Mother-in-law Will Travel

Dear Will Travel: Stay put. If anyone needs to travel, it's Mamma. There's no quick remedy for a troublesome mother-in-law. But if she has worn your hospitality (and the budget) thin, it's up to friend hubby to tell her to leave... permanently, until she mends her ways!

Dear Amy: I hope you can give me a good answer to my problem—naturally it's my husband. He is very shrewd about women and tries to make time with his boy friends' wives.

I try to force him to stay home but I'm not cut out to be a police woman, and sometimes it is more than I can bear. How can I stop him from sneaking around behind my back and making time with everyone? He also laughs at my husbands who get yelled at by their wives for doing the same things. If I yell or don't speak to him, he won't give me the paycheck on pay day.

Sincere

Dear Sincere: Your husband is an unprincipled scoundrel and doesn't deserve the protection you are giving him. Don't waste your time appealing to his sense of decency. He apparently has none. All he can understand is the fear of punishment from his boy friends.

The Hamlin Chapter Number 460 Order of the Eastern Star honored the Master Masons and their wives with their annual banquet Friday, February 17th, at 7:00 p.m. at the Primary School Cafetorium.

Study Club Hears Panel on Taxes At Friday Meet

The nation's present federal tax policy is a "virtual graveyard for personal ambition and incentives," the Fifty-Two Study Club was told Friday at a special program on "Why Bother about Taxes?"

With four members taking part as speakers, the program emphasized that the income tax system is denying the American people the just rewards for dedicated effort and hard work; that exorbitant taxes are siphoning off money that should be going into saving and investments; that as a result, there is a shortage of capital needed for creating new jobs and providing for economic growth.

Mrs. B. O. Bell, program chairman introduced as speakers: Mrs. E. J. Croan, Mrs. Gene Westmoreland, Mrs. L. A. Joiner and Mrs. Clarence Hyer.

During the meeting which was held in the home of Mrs. Noel Weaver, the club decided to send a contribution to help support "Radio Free Europe".

LVNs Meet Here In Cafetorium

Films on "What to do in Case of Disaster" and Better Care of the Orthopedic Patient" were shown at the meeting of the License Vocational Nurses Association Division No. 54, January 31 in the primary cafetorium.

Members from Hamlin were Mrs. T. Teichelman, Mrs. H. Higdon, Mrs. E. Wallace, Mrs. V. Brown, Mrs. L. V. Miller and guest, Mrs. Hallmark.

On Honor Roll

Miss Patricia Ann Bigham of Hamlin has earned a place on the dean's honor roll at Bethany Nazarene College, Bethany, Oklahoma, for scholastic achievement in the first semester.

FASHION TIPS FOR SPRING PRESENTED BY COUNTY AGENT

Ever feel like sitting on your hands because you didn't wear gloves at some function - or happened to choose the wrong color or kind? If so, you'll appreciate these fashion tips given by Mary Y. Newberry, Jones County Home Demonstration Agent.

When to wear gloves? Today there are many informal occasions when they are not needed. But do plan to wear them on the streets of a large town or city; going to and from church, at ceremonies such as weddings and funerals; attending formal luncheons, dinners and receptions. Once inside, you may remove them whenever you wish, except at formal dinners and receptions. Here they are usually kept on until you wish to eat.

And what about fabric? Gloves are made of both leather and fabric for all occasions. Thin white glove kid or suede leather is considered most formal, particularly for above the elbow gloves for evening wear. The much less expensive fabric gloves in these lengths are also correct, except for ultra formal occasions. For ordinary daytime wear, kid, doeskin, chamois, string, suede, antelope or fabric gloves are suitable; for sports wear, pigskin, deerskin, woolen or string with leather palms are recommended.

Now about lengths? One safe rule is always to have your glove meet your sleeve, therefore, with a 3/4 quarter sleeve wear a midarm glove; with an elbow sleeve an elbow length glove. This is a sensible practice if your arms are not your best point. But if you do have pretty, rounded arms and smooth elbows, there's no reason why you shouldn't wear wrist or bracelet-length gloves with almost any length sleeve.

The one thing to avoid is a too short gap between glove and sleeve that looks unintentional, as if the sleeves has shrunk.

Beige and grey co-star as the newest fashion for gloves for spring. White gloves may be worn when there is something else white in the costume. For instance, if you are wearing a white hat with a yellow coat, white gloves would be correct. Remember that contrasting colors always call attention to your hands. What is a "one-button," "two-button" glove? These terms are

Necessity is still The Mother of Invention

When engineers repositioned the fuel tank in the 1961 Chevrolet they also developed a deep-well cargo space in the trunk. Necessity being the mother of invention prompted perky Judy Cooper, Mountain View, Cal., to tie a clothesline onto the raised trunk lid and fill the new well with water. A washboard and detergent completed the "laundry room" for washing out those things which needed washing during a motor trip. "It worked quite well," said Judy, "we didn't have to carry an extra washtub."

200 ATTEND ANNUAL BLUE AND GOLD BANQUET MONDAY

The annual Cub Scout Blue and Gold Banquet was held Monday evening, February 20, 1961, at 7:30 p.m. in the Junior High School Gymnasium. Approximately 200 Cub Scouts, leaders, families and friends attended. Table decorations and individual place cards were prepared by the cubs in their respective dens.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Edmund Robb after the meeting was called to order by the Cubmaster, Guy Weaver, who served as master of ceremonies.

Lighting of the candles followed the meal. Each person had a cup cake with a candle and as these were lit the lights were turned out and the Star Spangled Banner was sung by the entire group.

A flag ceremony was then led by Gil Lain, Steve Feagan and Joe Poe.

Several dens were recognized as having all their cubs present along with at least one of their parents. The cub scouts now have 9 active dens.

Ed Croan presented a very entertaining program of magic which was enjoyed equally well by cubs, parents and guests.

The group was privileged to be able to see Larry Stephens as he received his Eagle Scout award from Weldon Johnson, Explorer Patrol leader.

A film was shown to the group on the Boy Scout Jamboree held at Colorado Springs, Colorado in the summer of 1960. Two Boy Scouts were present at the Banquet who attended this meeting. They were Mike Smith and John Poe.

FAIRVIEW NEWS--

By MRS. ELMER JOINER

We had hoped to be able to say a bright and shiny "Good-morning" this Monday morning, but the weather man played another trick on us and it is just another cold, and maybe rainy day. Although, the sun and warm days we had last week really made the little wheat grow.

Painting on the church house was finished last week, inside and out, and looks very wax the floors this week, if nice. The ladies will clean and the weather permits. Then we invite all our friends to come to church and see the new look the building has put on.

Last Monday afternoon a good crowd gathered at the pastor's home to load the household goods for them, ready to leave early Tuesday morning for Fort Worth, where they are now living. He moved there to be near the seminary, which he plans to attend as soon as possible. They will come back on the week end to pastor the church.

The move was made in four pick-ups, those helping were H. L. Ford, John Beauchamp, Woodrow Goodwin and Winson Gray. All made the trip without a single mishap, and were back home before night.

We are sorry to report that George Wainwright had to go back to the hospital after a few days at home. At this time he is feeling some better and hopes to be home to stay soon. Miss Della Drake is still not feeling much better, in fact all of the Drake family have had the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Newland visited with Mrs. Ralph Riddle last Thursday night.

Visiting with the Flavel Holmes Thursday night were Mrs. Earl Herbst and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wright and Melinda.

Mrs. Lois Hempton of Abilene and Mrs. R. E. Ray of Anson, visited with Mrs. Elmer Joiner, Thursday afternoon.

Linda Goodwin attended a birthday party honoring Charles Joiner Saturday afternoon at his home in the Neinda community.

Mrs. E. A. Henry and Mrs. O. L. Jenkins visited with Mrs. Roscoe Greenway Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Flavel Holmes' sister, Mrs. R. O. Clements of Pampa, spent Sunday night with her. Mrs. Clements' father-in-law, Bob Clements of Peacock, is in the Stamford hospital, after having suffered a heart attack.

Mr. and Mrs. Holmes visited with Mr. Clements Sunday afternoon, in the hospital and also with the Wainwrights.

Mr. and Mrs. Holmes went to see his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Holmes, Sunday afternoon. They reported that their son's wife, Mrs. Billy Holmes is improved, although she is still in the Cox Memorial Hospital in Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Jones went to Abilene Saturday to see their son, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Jones and Mark.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ford had as guests Sunday their son,

Joe E. and children, Gary and Jan. Mr. Joe E. Ford is in the hospital recovering from surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Landers of Ovalo, were visitors in the Waddell and Drake homes one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon McDonald of Anson came to see Mr. and Mrs. John Beauchamp and Debra, Sunday afternoon and they all went to Old Glory to visit the Kutachs, former neighbors of the McDonalds. They also inspected the new paint job at the church, as the McDonalds are past members and come back to visit occasionally.

Rev. Doyle Combs, Winson Gray and H. L. Ford went to the hospital Sunday afternoon to see George Wainwright.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Jones visited with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gray Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Elmer Joiner and Mrs. L. R. Faulkenberry went to Anson last Wednesday to attend council of H. D. clubs of Jones County.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ford were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Jenkins last Friday night.

Little Brenda Combs made the headlines again Sunday afternoon when she fell while playing in the home of the H. L. Fords, and cut her head. She was carried to the hospital where it took four stitches to close the wound.

Those taking dinner with the H. L. Ford family Sunday were: Rev. and Mrs. Doyle Combs, Brenda and Cathy, Winson Gray and Dorothy.

Mrs. Winson Gray returned home Sunday from Houston where she spent last week with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Doyal Bills.

RIDDLE: What costs less the more you use it?

ANSWER: The electricity

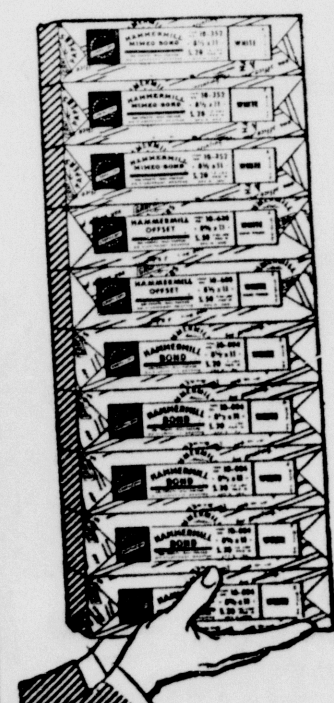

that serves you in your home. The more of it you use, the bigger the bargain... the less you pay per kilowatt-hour for it. In fact, in homes served by WTU the average cost of electricity is 22% less than it was 10 years ago.

Think how many new uses you have for electricity these days... from your TV to your work-saving appliances for cleaning and washing. This is why your over-all bill may be a little higher than in the old days.

But what else in your home can give you so much value yet cost so little?

who do not enter the agriculture professions do not have the educational backgrounds that are prerequisites for success under modern conditions. Vocational agriculture and the Future Farmers of America is the most effective programs yet devised to train boys to be good citizens and leaders in the ever-changing American agriculture.

Agricultural education should not be passed over lightly. It is essential in the twentieth century. It is a necessary ingredient for continued progress and prosperity.

Based on January 1 conditions, the Crop Reporting Board forecasts the winter vegetable crop for fresh market will be 4 percent less than last winter, but 6 percent above average.

NEED SITED FOR STUDYING AG BY TODAY'S YOUNG PEOPLE

"Why study agriculture?"

Only about 10 percent of our people are farming." This is only one of the many comments that have been voiced in America since the beginning of the great exodus from the farm to urban areas. Yes, only about 10 per cent of our working force is engaged in the actual production of feed, food, and fiber. In fact 90 per cent of our agricultural production is accomplished by only 2.1 million farmers.

However, agricultural education and the vocational agriculture training programs in 9,000 American high schools includes an even broader concept of the agricultural industry than production alone. This concept envelopes three main segments: (1) suppliers of production on resources to farmers, (2) processors and distributors of farm products, and (3) the actual farm producer. This combination of functions is a new term in our vocabularies -- agribusiness. It is America's largest industry, employing not 10 but 37 per cent of the U. S. working population.

It is essential that recognition in education be given all three of these major segments of the agricultural industry. One should also realize that agriculture is becoming more closely tied to other important industries of the nation. Farmers alone are a 14 billion dollar customer of labor and industry each year. In many areas agriculture is the largest industrial customer. For example, in Texas the largest user of petroleum products is the agricultural industry.

With these facts in mind

we cannot easily push agricultural education aside. The tremendous studies that have been made in the field of agriculture are a result of effective programs of research and education. But before research progress could be of any economic value to the farmer, he had to be informed on such improvements. In the past years farmers obtained needed information through a process that passed from farmer to farmer. Twelve years passed before the benefits of hybrid corn trickled down to the mass of all farmers. Under modern conditions, the agribusinessman cannot afford such delays. This slow remote process had to be replaced with a more effective educational system. Today's farmer consults newspapers, magazines, experiment stations and colleges on the latest developments. And among the farmer's greatest direct source of information is the vocational agriculture student who receives daily instruction on more effective methods and practices. Besides assisting the established farmer in accepting better practices and devices, the agriculture training programs in high schools and colleges teach young men to be successful farmers, processors, or suppliers of tomorrow.

Although America has a constant supply of young farmers to replace those who leave the farm either by death or retirement, the nation is not as fortunate in supplying sufficient workers in many of the other agricultural occupations. Any many of those

McCaulley FFA Leaving Sunday for Houston

Twenty-three boys take part in the FFA program provided by the McCaulley school system under the direction of Bill Robinson, vocational agriculture teacher.

The big project for the boys now is their annual trip to the Houston Fat Stock Show. They will leave Sunday and return March 6. The six boys will show 12 steers and one heifer at the show.

The chapter has its own bus equipped with bunks, stove, refrigerator, sink and other equipment to prepare the meals for the group while there.

They will take the bus, a trailer truck and the department's pickup with them and will sleep in the bus and the truck. Some of the boys' mothers will make the trip and will cook for the boys while they are in Houston.

Boys attending this year are: Jackie, Jerry and Jimmy Jeffery, Kerry Green, Orvil Hill Jr., and Gene Tabb.

On the return trip from Houston the boys will drop Jackie Jeffery and Kerry Green off at the San Angelo Fat Stock Show, where Jeffery will enter his heifer and both boys will compete in the calf scramble.

The heifer Jeffery will show in Houston and San Angelo will be a scramble calf he won last year at Houston. It is a Y6 bred calf.

During the past year the chapter has entered several stock shows and contests. They placed first in the district greenhand quiz, and third in the area. They won second in livestock judging in the district.

The McCaulley Vocational Agriculture department has a well equipped shop for the training of its students. Along with its woodworking equipment it has a complete welding department.

The chapter project each year is the feeding of hogs. The boys feed the hogs garbage from the school lunch room as well as buying feed for them. The money for the sale of the animals is used by the group for local projects.

Near the end of each year the boys and their fathers spend two days at the encampment grounds of the Brownwood State Park near Brownwood. The trip is paid for by the money raising projects conducted during the year.

Johnny Stovall Wins Honors At Stock Show

Johnny Stovall, Hamlin FFA student took championship honors at both the El Paso and San Antonio Livestock shows.

He showed the first and second place Hampshires and Berkshires, the first place Chester White and one of his barrows was judged champion berkshire at the El Paso show. The animal brought $394 at the sale.

At San Antonio Stovall won the champion other purebred barrow with his chester white. He took second place light weight berkshire and 17th place light weight poland china. All three barrows made the premium sale and are to be auctioned off Friday.

In tests conducted by Texas Agricultural Experiment Station workers, range ewes flushed before and during breeding averaged 7.5 percent more lambs than those not flush-fed. Too, flush-fed ewes in 6 or 7 groups studied showed an increase in wool staple length and 5 groups showed higher condition scores.

Basic research is needed to develop new knowledge of the mineral nutrition of plants, behavior of water on agricultural watersheds, and new principles of rangeland soil management, said the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Soils, Water and Fertilizer Research Advisory Committee.

McCAULLEY OFFICERS — Officers of the McCaulley chapter of FFA are: left to right: Larry McCright, secretary; Rodger Forbes, reporter; Jimmy Jeffery, president; Wesley Mabery, sentinel; Orvil Hill Jr., vice president. The chapter is under the leadership of Bill Robinson, instructor, who has been in the McCaulley system for the past seven years. The 23 boys in FFA have projects valued at $2,380 which includes show steers, hogs and field crops.

GETTING READY FOR HOUSTON — Several McCaulley FFA boys will leave Sunday to show in the Houston Fat Stock Show. They will take their bus and a trailer truck to Houston. Bobby Kaiser, Kerry Green and Jackie Jeffery are putting things in place on the bus. The boys will sleep in the bus and the truck and will eat in the bus with some of the mothers doing the cooking. Other boys going to Houston are Jerry and Jimmy Jeffery, Orvil Hill Jr., and Gene Tabb. They will be accompanied by Bill Robinson, instructor, and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Jeffery.

STATE PRESIDENT TELLS WHY BOYS LIKE THE FFA PROGRAM

By Joe Penn, President

Texas Association, FFA

Before I became a member of the FFA organization, I often wondered why my older brothers were so wrapped up in this all-boy organization. After becoming a member five years ago, I learned why. It is an association of the boys for the boys. It helps to build them into well-rounded dependable, aggressive agricultural leaders. Many other fields are also opened to boys with FFA training. They can go into the work of journalism, teaching, shopwork, public relations, science, or even politics. The boys realize the importance of selecting a career and the training they are receiving; therefore, they work laboriously to achieve the most from their four years in FFA work.

From the time they first enter their first class of "Ag" until they graduate they realize that this is to be their work. As Green Hands they learn to plan to work and initiate those plans. Dependability is one of the first lessons learned. After they pass the Green Hand test they begin to eagerly work for themselves and the organization.

No boy is ever forced to carry any project or participate in any contest. All work is done on a completely voluntary basis. They are encouraged by their advisor to select projects which they like and enter contests which will bring out the best in them.

The field trips are not only educational, but are fun as well. A certain amount of freedom is given the boys on these trips, yet their activities are constrained to give the proper significance to the trip. The boys respect the restraint placed on them because they are aware of the advantage of learning by doing.

Everyone is interested in becoming a leader. Probably each boy dreams of being the leader of his chapter, district, area or state. He is allowed and encouraged to develop his talents, but he is never pushed into the limelight. He realizes that what is accomplished must be done by his own hard work.

The planning of all chapter meetings, banquets and other entertainments is done by the boys. Since it is the organization of the boys, they are responsible for the success of the event and each boy gladly assumes his responsibility. The boys really appreciate the confidence their advisor has in them.

The art of carrying on a meeting is stressed in FFA work. Parliamentary procedure is a must in a FFA meeting.

Jones County 4H To Be Given Nine Swine by Group

Eight registered Duroc gilts and one registered Duroc male well be given away to Jones County 4-H club members in May, by the Sears Foundation according to an announcement this week by County Agent, Kirby Clayton.

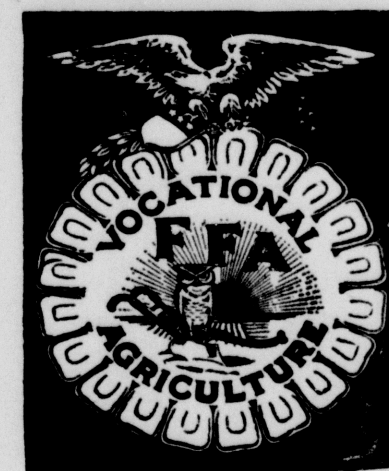

To be eligible for one of these pigs, a club member to raise hogs" and turn it in must write an essay on "How to the county agent by April 1st. The club members must also have reasonable facilities to take care of a hog in order to qualify.

Essays will be judged and the winners announced in April.

ing. This is an accomplishment that is greatly appreciated in future meetings that may be attended by some of these FFA boys. A person well-versed in parliamentary procedure is always welcome at civic meetings, business meetings, or any other type of meeting where lack of parliamentary procedure results in confusion and a waste of time.

Yes, the FFA is truly an organization of boys for boys, but we might go even further and say "The FFA is an organization of the boys and for the men they will be one day".

The national emblem of the Future Farmers of America is significant and meaningful in every detail. Used by members in all recognized units of the organization, it is made up of five symbols: the owl, the plow, and the rising sun, within the cross section of an ear of corn which is surmounted by the American eagle. Upon the face of the emblem appear also the words "Vocational Agriculture" and the letters "FFA." The owl is symbolic of wisdom and knowledge; the plow is the symbol of labor and tillage of the soil; the rising sun is emblematic of progress and the new day that will dawn when all farmers are trained and have learned to cooperate; the cross section of an ear of corn represents common agricultural interests since corn is native to America and grown in every State; and the eagle is indicative of the national scope of the organization. City Represented At Easter Seal Abilene Workshop

Thirty-five volunteer workers from twelve Abilene area towns met Wednesday at the West Texas Rehabilitation Center to plan this year's Easter Seal campaign. The drive, tentatively set for mid-March, probably will be shortened to two weeks instead of a month as it was last year.

Area representatives meeting for the second Easter Seal Workshop viewed a film "Help Them Walk". A story of the West Texas Rehabilitation Center.

The group was taken on a tour of the Center and Z. Oswalt, president of the West Texas Rehabilitation Center Board of Directors, thanked those present for helping in last year's drive.

The 1961 Easter Seal Parade will be a house-to-house campaign in all towns except Abilene where a mail-out drive will be conducted.

Persons present were from Stamford, Anson, HAMLIN, Roby, Rotan, Clyde, Albany, Munday, Knox City, Aspermont, Winters and Sweetwater.

County Ag Leaders To Survey Cotton Seed Being Planted

Agricultural leaders in Jones County will join together this spring to conduct a survey determining the quality of seed being planted, and also determine why the farmer selected the seed," announced Dr. John S. Rogers, president, Texas Certified Seed Producers, Inc.

County Agricultural agent Kirby Clayton and Vocational Agricultural Teachers Larry E. Dooley and J. F. Dozier, Anson; T. C. Blankenship and Melburn Wink, Hamlin; and Weldon Holbrook and R. B. Roland, Stamford; are joining forces to conduct this survey. Members of The Young Farmers organizations at Anson, Hamlin and Stamford will visit the farmers at planting time to get a sample of cotton seed from their planting box. They will also have several questions for the farmer to answer in regard to the source of the seed and the reason why he selected the seed for planting. Samples of cotton seed will be used for germination tests.

This survey is one of many projects using the data processing Center at Texas A&M College. Once the information has been transferred to the IBM cards it will be a matter of a few minutes getting answers which would have otherwise taken several weeks using the conventional calculators.

This is a joint project of the Agronomy Department of Texas A&M College, The Certified Seed Producers, Inc., and the agricultural leaders of Jones County.

Ways to Increase Ag Income Talked by Group

Ways to increase agriculture and livestock income was the topic for discussion at the organizational meeting of the Agriculture and Livestock Committee of the Hamlin Board of Community Development here Thursday night.

The meeting was held in the BCD office with Robert Fowler, director in charge, presiding. Fowler outlined the committee's objectives to increase farm and ranch income by trying new methods such as ensilage feeding of livestock and raising guar for a commercial market.

L. C. Bond was elected chairman for 1961 and immediately appointed committees to work on specific projects. Richard Young, W. A. Hawkins and Cecil Brown were assigned to investigate ensilage feeding and report back to the committee at a later date. Ed Rodgers, E. J. Whaley, J. E. McCoy and Noel Weaver were assigned to make further investigations on raising guar commercially. The committees also discussed the need for a livestock project barn for FFA and appointed a committee to investigate ways and means of financing such a project. Serving on the committee will be T. C. Blankenship, Revis O. Robertson and Dale Lane.

The Agriculture and Livestock Committee is under Area Economic Development phase of the BCD's fields of interest with Arlie Cassle, 1st Vice President, in charge.

Trade Development Committee Plans Work Program

Hamlin merchants were told of four ways to increase business at their Trade Development Committee meeting here Tuesday morning, Feb. 14, by Ed Croan, manager of Winn's Store and 2nd Vice President of the Board of Community Development in charge of Commerce and Industry.

Croan pointed out that business could be increased in Hamlin with a concentrated effort on the part of individual merchants if they would work to: offer a better merchandise selections; give better training to sales personnel; provide more off-street parking space; and improve store fronts downtown.

The committee also voted to observe the five holidays in accordance with larger towns throughout the year. They are: New Year's Day, Independence Day (July 4), Labor Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas. Ray Sonnenberg was elected Chairman of the Committee.

Other tax payers I think they should just continue serving the customers they were originally intended to serve.

As for the BCD being against the REAs, it isn't, because there is not a merchant or citizen of Hamlin that hasn't benefited by the electrification of the rural area.

I would urge all of the farmers of the area to become members of the BCD and let's help build this area into a more prosperous area and a better place in which to live both for ourselves and our children.

'TOMBOY AND THE CHAMP' SHOWING FRIDAY, SATURDAY

How much do animals really know?

When a prize bull fails for the Purple Ribbon Championship at a Chicago International Exposition—when a fine race horse runs out of the money in a Kentucky Derby—when a pedigreed dog loses top honors at a Madison Square Garden Show—do their hearts cry?

Horse trainers tell you that scores of famed turf stars like Whirlaway and Silky Sullivan "play to the grandstand" when they win.

Dog breeders will testify that "man's best friend" can "sense" the joy or despair of their owners when they win or lose.

Judges of great stock shows for farm animals—swear that bulls—among others—intuitively feel the reaction of the breeders who have presented them.

Between camera setups, this was the theme of a discussion as Rex (Mr. Cowboy) Allen prepared to sing "Who Says Animals Don't Cry" to 13 year old Candy Moore in a long-to-be-remembered scene for "Tomboy and the Champ," opening Sunday at the Rogue Theatre. For this is the story of a honey-haired, blue-eyed Texas tomboy—who is determined to make a Grand Champion out of a scrawny, outlaw calf—but who meets failure when she first presents her pet at The Houston Fat Stock Show.

"I can cry and find some, but I'm in crying," says, but

J. P. Bingham Owner of 'Mystery Farm' Since 1920
